PREPPING FOR SUCCESS

DX4 helps you to become more aware of your body, teaching you how to be present while you eat, move and go about your day. Beyond these physical components, DX4 is also a discovery of health and wellness. Altogether, it aids in improving physical strength*, mental fortitude, emotional intelligence, spiritual enlightenment, and healthy social interactions. Each day of DX4 is devoted to a theme: Decide, Define, Discover and Dedicate. Over these four days, you'll be guided toward an increased mind and body connection for improved overall health. When prepping, there are a few dos and don'ts to keep in mind to set yourself up for success.

*Forever Plant Protein is high in protein, which contributes to the growth and maintenance of muscle mass.

By focusing on proper hydration, water will support the maintenance of physical and cognitive function.

DO

Begin DX4 when you have a normal schedule that doesn't involve heavy stress, travel, or excessive physical exertion.

Take the time to get all the appropriate food you'll need, and clear out what doesn't serve you well or what may tempt you.

Let others know what you are doing and that you will appreciate their support.

Reach out to your support group with your successes and struggles.

Plan ahead! Make sure you have all your supplements, snacks, and assignments prepared for each day of the programme. Prepare DX4 programme-approved recipes in advance.

Make sure you have a bathroom nearby because you will be drinking more water than what you're probably used to.

Commit to the full four days.

Use any of the programme-approved healthy food options as listed.

Consult your doctor if you have any concerns before participating, and continue taking all required medication you are currently using.

Hold off on taking any of Forever's nutritional products listed on page 9.

Repeat DX4 annually, biannually, or quarterly.

Recognise and celebrate small changes.

Practice good sleep hygiene: no screens in the bedroom, keep the room dark and cool, take time to wind down, have a consistent bedtime, and strive for eight hours of sleep.

DON'T

Wait for the perfect time when you feel motivated. Motivation burns bright once you're in the process and experiencing success!

Randomly substitute food and beverages. If you want optimal results, stick to the plan.

Surround yourself with those that are unsupportive and negative.

Wait to share until something 'epic' happens.

Throw this together on the fly. Success will be so much easier if you've taken the time to prepare everything you need in advance.

Panic if you don't like water. There are plenty of programme-approved supplements that help increase hydration deliciously.

Do one or two days, or skip days in between

Make your own modifications. No alcohol, high fat and salt processed foods, animal products or animal meat, dairy, hydrogenated or partially hydrogenated oils, grains, starchy vegetables, or excess caffeine.

Ignore any medication or health issues that need to be addressed.

Continue supplementing with any Forever products, except for those that are part of the DX4 programme. See page 9 for a list of Forever supplements that should be avoided during the DX4 programme.

Repeat monthly. Keep a minimum of two months between your next DX4 programme.

Worry if you didn't achieve your goal the first time. Be observant and discover what you did learn. Applying what you've learned AFTER DX4 is where the real work begins.

Take your work, worries and stress to your bedroom.

DAY 1: DECIDE

Your first day of DX4 is all about your decision to set yourself on the path to better health. As you begin Day 1, know that the decision you made to begin DX4 will require determination. Today, it's important that you are 100% present. Take advantage of the next few days of clarity to focus on you. Stay in the moment and take advantage of the invaluable insight you will gain by being completely present.

TODAY'S GUIDE

Categorise your health from the chart below and identify 1 or 2 areas that could use improvement.

+

Probe deeper into these areas and discover 1 or 2 specific goals that would improve your deeper health.

+

Apply the future lens. Imagine that you have successfully accomplished the goals that you listed. What does that look like? How has your life improved?

GETTING STARTED: SELF-REFLECTION

Begin with a judgement-free analysis. Be an observer of your internal and external body. Think about your health in a variety of areas: physical, mental, emotional, spiritual and social. Consider where you're thriving and where you're not feeling your best.

Here are some specific aspects of each area of wellness to help you:

- | | | | | |
|---|--|---|---|--|
| PHYSICAL <ul style="list-style-type: none"> + Sleep + Recovery + Movement + Nutrition + Energy | MENTAL <ul style="list-style-type: none"> + Alert/sharp + Anxious/depressed + Mood stability + Motivated/engaged + Learning | EMOTIONAL <ul style="list-style-type: none"> + Stress resilience + Emotional intelligence + Forgiveness + Empathy + Kindness | SPIRITUAL <ul style="list-style-type: none"> + Enjoy some solitude + Meditation + Connection with something bigger than yourself + Sacred space | SOCIAL <ul style="list-style-type: none"> + Boundaries + Support systems + Communication + Enjoying others |
|---|--|---|---|--|

Use the chart as a guide to rate your current state of health in each area.

	OPTIMAL	GOOD	NEEDS WORK	STRUGGLING
PHYSICAL

FINDING YOUR WHY

Now that you have identified the areas that could benefit from your attention and focus, consider how optimal your overall health is and how change in one or two of these areas would be valuable. Picture yourself successfully implementing that change and the value this brings to your life. After giving this some thought, do the following exercise in a journal or on an electronic device.

DECIDE which singular goal you will focus on:

WHY you are ready for this change:

HOW you will benefit from this change:

FIND gratitude for what has led you to choose this goal and for the qualities you have that will lead you to success:

WHY you will accomplish this goal:

CELEBRATE at least one small victory you had today:

Use your answers as inspiration for an affirmation or a mantra that you can meditate on before bed.

Example Affirmation: I am ready to have an increased level of joy in my life because I've carried this burden with me for long enough. I can envision a new, lighter version of myself that will be ready to connect with new individuals and take on challenges. I'm grateful that I struggled with this because it proved that I am strong and can overcome. This strength I've discovered is a powerful characteristic that will ultimately propel me toward the me I am becoming. My positive mindset today kept me focused on all the good things in my life. I celebrate my ability to not get hung up on the negatives of today.

DAY 2: DEFINE

Your second day of DX4 is about defining your area of focus from Day 1 in the context of the SMART goal framework. A SMART goal is an acronym for goals that are: Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant and Timebound. By defining a SMART goal, you remove any ambiguity around your goal setting, thereby giving you a clearer idea of what it is that you want and how to achieve it.

TODAY'S GUIDE

GETTING STARTED: DEFINING SPECIFIC GOALS

SPECIFIC goals remove ambiguity and clearly illustrate what is wanted. When goals are vague, they become more of a wish than a plan. A plan requires action, so the initial focus must provide the opportunity to do something actionable. Here are some examples of vague goals and their specific counterpart.

I want to improve my diet. | I will eat at home 5 nights a week.
I need more sleep. | I will get 8 hours of sleep every night.

MEASURABLE goals help you recognise your progress and/or achievement. While weight loss goals can be measured by the scales, clothing size, body composition analysis, or measuring tape, other goals might need to be measured by a self-determined scale. For example, if your goal is to improve your stress management, you might use a scale of 1-10 to rate yourself on how successful you are at handling stress, revisiting this over time.

ATTAINABLE goals help fuel motivation to proceed to the next step by providing a continued sense of accomplishment. If your goal is to run a 10K, start setting smaller goals such as running 2K at a time and building up.

RELEVANT goals are an appropriate next step toward the desirable result. For example, perhaps your goal is to get better sleep at night and you decide your SMART goal is to stop watching Netflix. While this will surely help, it isn't relevant enough to your nighttime sleep habits. Instead, a better SMART goal would be to turn off all screens one hour before bedtime.

TIMEBOUND goals marry the desire of an outcome with the intended time it will take to achieve that outcome. Different goals and different people require a variety of timeframes to achieve goals. Sometimes a timeline needs to be in stages: The first goal is to implement the change, and the second goal is to consistently keep up (or complete) the new goal for a set amount of time.

SETTING YOUR GOAL

Use a journal or electronic device to answer the prompts below.

My SPECIFIC goal is:.....
I will MEASURE my progress by:.....
I know I can ATTAIN this goal because:.....
I can see the RELEVANCE of working toward this goal because:.....
I have set a TIMELINE for completing this goal and a celebration date which is:.....
CELEBRATE at least one small victory that you had today:

Before bed, put your SMART goal into a simple affirmation or meditation and conclude with your gratitude for something that happened today.

DAY 3&4 SCHEDULE

DAY 3: DISCOVER

As Day 3 begins, you might find yourself feeling tired, frustrated, bored, discouraged, busy, unmotivated or hungry. Not everyone feels all of these, but you will likely experience some of them. These are obstacles, which are an inherent part of life. While you can't avoid them completely, you can manage them through preparation and acknowledging that success takes many shapes. Perhaps success is crossing the finish line of your goal, but sometimes it's learning to forgive yourself when things don't come together as you'd hoped. As you go through Day 3, keep this in mind and envision yourself with your new goal accomplished. What does success look and feel like now?

TODAY'S GUIDE

Observe the obstacles you're facing and the potential problems that could arise because of them.

Brainstorm solutions for those obstacles.

Meal prep, since healthy food is part of your DX4 schedule for Days 3 and 4.

GETTING STARTED: FIND SOLUTIONS

In your journal, make a list of any obstacles that you could potentially see interrupting your quest for living a healthier lifestyle. Then, write down what problems you might face because of them and any possible solutions.

Here are some ideas.

Review WHY you started this journey. (Look back on your previous notes!)

Discover and CELEBRATE one successful thing about today:.....

Review your GRATITUDE statements and add a new one for today:.....

Before bed, use guided audio or video meditation, and meditate on the transformative behaviour you're experiencing.

DAY 4: DEDICATE

Use this final day to dedicate yourself to being more mindful and present, as you have been for the last four days. During this time, you've done the internal hard work to propel you forward towards deeper health — and have helped your body with nourishing supplements and foods. To assimilate these new behaviours into your daily routine, it is important to review where you began, what you've learned, and set a plan for your next DX4.

TODAY'S GUIDE

GETTING STARTED: BUILDING A GROWTH MINDSET

How you perceive and respond to any given situation, including setting new goals, is determined by your mindset. There are two kinds of mindsets: fixed and growth. A fixed mindset perceives challenges as insurmountable and pre-determines the outcome. A growth mindset embraces challenges and sees them as opportunities to learn and grow. There are nine attributes that contribute to the cultivation of a growth mindset: non-judging, patience, openness, trust, process-focused, acceptance, letting go, generosity, and gratitude.

Think about how the last four days have challenged you to adopt these attributes and where you might have more work to do. For example, how you can better trust the process rather than race towards your desired result?

Participating in DX4 requires a growth mindset. You must be open to change, letting go of what no longer serves you, and have patience and gratitude for yourself.

Consider: Which of these attributes would be beneficial for you to work on right now to aid in the progress you have made thus far? What is one way you can apply it in your life?

For example: Continuing to journal what you're grateful for every night will cultivate gratitude and the ability to trust and acknowledge yourself.

YOUR PROGRESS

Use a journal or electronic device to answer the prompts below.

- Revisit your initial SELF-REFLECTION analysis from Day 1.
- Meditate on the small, meaningful SHIFTS you have noticed since then. Write down three shifts.
- Review your GRATITUDE statements from each day. How have those evolved?
- Review the initial GOAL you created. What has the experience of working toward this goal awakened in you? Has this self-reflection and clarity illuminated a new area in your deeper health?
- What would you like to FOCUS on the next time you follow the DX4 regimen? Make a preliminary decision now and set a start date.

Write down a PERSONAL AFFIRMATION that will help you consistently adhere to your new goal. Read it daily as you continue to integrate this new goal into your lifestyle.

For example: I have not made healthy eating a priority in the past. I'm ready to fuel my body with what it needs to thrive. I'm curious about trying new foods that are nutrient-dense and good for my body. I'm open to learning how to prepare simple, healthy meals. I'm thankful to have access to good food, and I'm excited to save money as I learn to prepare food at home.

Use your personal mantra as a simple affirmation or meditation and conclude with your gratitude for something that happened today.

YOU'VE COMPLETED THE DX4 PROGRAMME: WHAT NOW?

Congratulations! You made a commitment to rebalance your body, increase your self-awareness, and commit to a new goal. Take some time to reflect on how you feel in this moment – the moment of completion.

REMEMBER!

The purpose of DX4 was not to create a new lifestyle, but rather, to hit pause on the behaviours, thoughts and actions you habitually do, while also teaching you healthy habits to work into your life. Everyone has toxic behaviours, foods, people and situations in their life. A lightened load helps the body's systems work efficiently and effectively. As the body experiences how well it can run with a mindful pause, we can also see the positive effect in our thoughts, habits and behaviours as we pause, reset and improve.

The next steps for each person will be unique, and will depend on what your goal is moving forward. Allow yourself to be present and maintain a growth mindset as you progress to incorporating these new habits into your routine.

HERE ARE FIVE BASIC PRACTICES TO CONSIDER IMPLEMENTING:

Start your day with water. Continue to drink a minimum of two litres or more every day. Drinking water before eating creates mindfulness, allowing you to think about what you're going to consume and why. Prepare your water bottle the night before if that helps!

Eat more greens. Have greens every day and at every meal. Try to eat them in raw, whole food form. For breakfast, blend spinach into your morning smoothie — it will change the colour and nutrition profile, but it won't change the taste. For lunch, try raw veggies and hummus or a salad. For dinner, steam, roast, or air fry veggies in bulk, or prepare homemade vegetable soup, so they're ready to eat for several days.

Meditate. Spend five minutes every morning and night listening to a guided meditation, or create your own. What did you discover during DX4 that you need more of in your life? Set your intention. Recite your mantra. Find stillness. Be present. Manifest what you want in life. Take 10 minutes (in total) per day to reset, find calm and check in.

Review your notes. Refer back to your notes from DX4 as often as you can (at least weekly). Continue to work on the goals you set.

Practice. Continue practicing the positive things you learned from your discovery process with DX4. Practice makes progress. Remember, the point is progress, not perfection!

FAQS

What makes DX4 different from other body-balancing systems on the market?

DX4 takes a comprehensive approach to how you view food, and asks the question “why do you feel hungry?”. This programme is not a weight-loss programme; instead, it’s a controlled assessment of what your body needs versus what your brain wants, and provides only the essential nutrition intended to re-centre your mind and body.

What is the DX4 programme like?

DX4 is a four-day programme that helps you to pause and reset your physical, mental and spiritual health through seven nutritional products, mindset practices, and guided food intake. During this easy-to-follow programme, you’ll adopt a more mindful, intentional approach to eating, and how you are taking care of your body. The nutritional products, structured meal plan, and mindset activities combine to provide a programme greater than the sum of its parts, helping you to learn to live a cleaner and healthier lifestyle after the four-day programme is complete.

Is it safe to complete the DX4 programme multiple times per year?

Yes, DX4 can be completed multiple times a year, but should not be performed back-to-back since the programme is calorie restrictive. The intent of DX4 is to reset our body and mind so we can reassess our lifestyle and our relationship with food. If you are a generally healthy adult who need reminders throughout the year, it is safe to complete the DX4 programme multiple times, but before you start any calorie restrictive programme you should consult with your doctor if you are concerned.

Will I lose weight from completing the DX4 programme?

Whilst the goal of DX4 should be to focus on your relationship with food and determine if you need to make any changes when the programme is complete, it is likely that you may lose some weight during the four days as you will be eating restricted calories.

I’m most interested in the products/nutrition guidance of DX4. Do I need to complete the mindset aspect to see results?

Forever’s DX4 is a tool designed to help you become more mindful of the food and nutrition you put into your body. Like any tool, we recommend you use it as intended to ensure you reap the full benefits, since each function of the programme is designed to work in tandem with the other.

Do I have to follow the DX4 programme exactly as outlined?

We recommend that the programme should be followed as outlined to achieve the optimal mind-body results. DX4 blends a scientific approach to nutrition with a meditative, introspective approach to how we view food.

Why does the Forever Plant Protein say one serving per day on the pouch?

After consultation with our Nutritionist and using feedback from trial groups testing DX4, it was decided that two portions of Forever Plant Protein was the optimal serving as part of the overall programme. We have updated our registrations and labels for future batches. This means the intake of protein from Forever Plant Protein is now 34 grams per day.

MEAL PREP MANTRA

I am learning, I am doing, I am becoming, I am

Practice this mantra throughout each day, especially if you have self-doubt and frustration. Take it a step further. While you are prepping your DX4 programme-approved snacks on the eve of days 2, 3 and 4, set an intention and state it out loud using this framework:

- 1) What you are learning → I am learning to feed my body nutrient-dense foods.
- 2) What you are doing → I am doing all the chopping, organising and preparing.
- 3) What you are becoming → I'm becoming aware of what foods benefit my microbiome, my energy and my health.
- 4) What you are → I am practicing a healthy lifestyle because I am healthy and fit.
